II. ELIGIBILITY

The eligibility period begins on October 1, 2022, and ends on September 30, 2023. This qualification must take place within two years of the film's completion date.

OR

3. The film must have won a Gold, Silver or Bronze Medal award in the Academy's 2023 Student Academy Awards competition in the Narrative or Alternative/Experimental categories.

All films must be submitted in a standard theatrical exhibition aspect ratio, in formats currently accepted by the Academy (see Paragraph II.A.1 above), no matter which other formats may have been used during their theatrical run or festival screening. Producers may provide screenings of films in specialized formats for Academy members, but attendance at such screenings is not required for voting purposes.

 - Broadcast and cable television

 - Internet transmission

Up to fifteen percent of the running time of a film is allowed to be shown in a nontheatrical medium prior to the film's theatrical release.

Films qualifying under Paragraph II.A.2 or II.A.3 above are exempted from this rule.

III. SUBMISSION

- A. Entrants must complete the online submission form located on the Academy's Awards Submission site, and submit to the Academy the digital upload of the film for streaming purposes, as well as all submission materials. Formats requiring special technical presentation that meet the technical specifications above will be given consideration if made available for Academy voting screenings in Los Angeles County.
- B. The short film submitted for Academy Awards consideration must be identical in content and length to the print or DCP that qualified.
- C. Dialogue or narration must be substantially in English or the film must have English-language subtitles.
- D. For films qualifying between October 1, 2022, and May 31, 2023, entrants must submit all submission materials, including the digital upload of the film for streaming purposes, by 5 p.m. PT on Tuesday,

- E. If a short film advances to the second round of voting, additional materials including a film print or DCP of the film will be required after the shortlist is announced. Shortlisted films must have the necessary clearances for commercial theatrical exhibition. Festival clearances are not sufficient.
- F. The Academy will retain for its archives one film print or DCP of every short film receiving a nomination for final balloting. The Academy will have the right, but not the obligation, to create a preservation copy of the picture at its own expense. By submitting a film, the filmmaker agrees that the Academy has the right to make copies and distribute them for voting purposes only.
- G. The nominee(s) should be the individual(s) most involved in the key creative aspects of the filmmaking process. A maximum of two persons may be designated as nominees, one of whom must be the credited director who exercised directorial control, and the other of whom must have a director, producer, or writer credit. If a producer is named, that individual must have performed a major portion of the producing functions, in accordance with Academy producer criteria. Companies or organized groups shall not receive nominations or awards.
- H. All individuals with a “producer” or “produced by” credit on films that reach the semifinal round will automatically be vetted. The Short Films and Feature Animation Branch Executive Committee will determine which producer, if any, is eligible to receive a nomination. In the unlikely event of a dispute, filmmakers may appeal the Committee’s decision.
- I. No short film may be submitted more than once for Academy Awards consideration. A short film must be submitted in the same Awards year in which it qualifies.

IV. VOTING

- A. Excellence of the entries shall be judged on the basis of originality, entertainment and production quality without regard to cost of production or subject matter.
- B. All active and life Academy members will be invited to view the eligible submissions in the Live Action Short Film category. Those who opt in will be required to see a minimum number of submitted eligible films as defined by the current procedures. The fifteen motion pictures receiving the highest number of votes shall advance to next round of voting.
- C. To determine nominations, all active and life Academy members will be invited to view the fifteen shortlisted Live Action Short Films. A member must see all shortlisted films for the ballot to be counted. Those members who participated in the reviewing process and who viewed all of the selected pictures will receive ballots. Members shall vote in the order of their preference for not more than five motion pictures. The five motion pictures receiving the highest number of votes shall become the nominations for final voting for the Live Action Short Film award.
- D. Final voting for the Live Action Short Film award shall be restricted to active and life members of the Academy who have viewed all of the nominated short films.
